A Word : Since long before the dawn of Independence the erudite people among the depressed, persecuted and toiling masses of Tehatta and her adjacent villages have earnestly tried their hardest to eradicate the cause of illiteracy from the locality and to enlighten them with the blessings of higher education. The step that has been recognised as prime is the erection of Tehatta Sailendra Smriti Sangha (a library) in 1946. Gradually the other steps establishment of a hospital for health consciousness, Post Office for small savings and communication, games and sports for health education, institutions like. Tehatta free Primary School and Tehatta High School for mass education, have glorified the area. The latest addition to the blaze of aspiration for higher education is the 'Tehatta Sadananda Mahavidyalaya'. None can say with the rotation of the Sun birth of a university at Tehatta may not be seen.

The educated people as well as the lovers of education i.e, education minded madding crowd of the vast arena, are requested to stretch their gracious helping hands to turn the sapling into a healthy tree of knowledge for future with their suggestions and contributions liberally without prejudice as before.

The aims and objects of each educational institution are various, But the principal of them is to acquire knowledge, not to gather information only. The motto of this Mahavidyalaya is to assist each student to reach the perfection, be a true citizen who will keep his head high, whose words will come out from the depth of heart, not from mouth.

The Hon'ble Chief Minister to the Govt. of West Bengal has kept her oath by honouring the appeal of the people who are indebted to her and who pay their homage to her as well as to those who have assisted whole-heartedly to reach the goal.
